

	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Leave a comment 	1 s length ± 0.4 1.2.23.24	"Thank you!" (8)	-+ "(?)" "(?!)" "[?]" "! I got my scooter!" (29) "I received your message." (24) "Thank you for the quick delivery!" (24)	No error messages appear and the order is done.	No error messages appear and the order is done.
32 Verify that the comment field cannot have more than 24 characters	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Write a long comment 	+ 24 25-29.27	"Thank you! We're looking forward to getting my scooter and having some fun around the city!" (105)	*Approve the fast sensor" (25) "Thank you! This really is great!" (28) Received it today at [profit] (27)	An error message must appear	No error message appear; user is asked to write a message with no more than 24 characters. this is because i wrote too much and it was rejected so i had to delete it and now it's working again
33 On the Picking page, click the back button and verify that the user is returned to the Why do we choose a lot? page with previously entered formater information preserved?	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Click the "Back" button 	That should bring the user back to "Why the scooter is hot?" page			Brought user back to "Why the scooter is hot?" page	Brought user back to "Why the scooter is hot?" page
34 Click the Order button to place your order. A message will appear asking, 'Would you like to make the order?' Click 'YES'; another window will pop up showing the order number.	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Click the "Order" button 	A pop-up window appears with the message "Should you like to place the order?" When users click "Yes," another window displays the order number.			Windows pop-up with the user orders number	Windows pop-up with the user orders number
35 Enter an incorrect order number in the Order status (- negative testing)	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Click the "Order" button 8 - Search the order number in the field 	* There's no such order" message should appear.*			A pop-up window appears with the message: "There's no such order."	A pop-up window appears with the message: "There's no such order."
36 Click the Cancel Order' button or the bottom of the Order pages; a pop-up window should appear with the message 'Would you like to cancel the order?'	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Click the "Order" button 8 - Search the order number in the field 9 - Click on the cancel order button 	A message should appear asking the user if they want to cancel their order.			A pop-up window appears with the message: "Would you like to cancel the order?"	A pop-up window appears with the message: "Would you like to cancel the order?"
37 Click the Back' button and verify that the user is returned to the Order Status page.	The user is on the landing page with all content fully loaded	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 - Open the landing page 2 - Scroll down to "How it works" 3 - Click on the "Order" button 4 - Fill all personal information and click next to go to retail page 5 - Choose date for testing 6 - Pick how many days 7 - Click the "Order" button 8 - Search the order number in the field 9 - Click on the cancel order button 10 - click the "Back" button 	The user must be back in the searching page			User is redirected to the landing page.	User is redirected to the landing page.